KILLED ON THE "L" ROAD.

Two Men Run Into by One of the Elevated Trains.

New York, Nov. 24.—An uptown Sixth avenue "L" train leaving the Bleecker street station shortly after 8 o'clock to-night ran into two men at the Cortland street station.

Dr. Francis S. Whittemore, aged 35, a physician of this city, was instantly killed, and George H. Beatty, of the firm of E. C. Hazen & Co., wholesale grocers, this city, was injured so that he died at the hospital half an hour after the accident occurred.

The police have not yet been able to determine how the men came to be on the track. The ticket chopper says that three men went out on the platform to get a drink. They were in good spirits and laughing.

Then he heard a cry and saw the forms of the two men on the track.

BREAD THAT DREW PRIZES

Immense Crowds Attend the Contest at Convention Hall.

ONE LOAF WEIGHED 35 POUNDS

Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Lamont, Mrs. Foster, and Miss Field Were the Judges—Miss Johnson Was the Referee—Nearly 500 Loaves Were Entered—Will Be Given to the Poor.

The bread-making contest drew an immense crowd to Convention Hall yesterday. The judges were Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Lamont, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Lamont, and Miss Kate Field, and most wisely did they fulfill the duties imposed upon them.

The decision was not announced until evening, when the following awards were made:

First prize, handsome silver berry dish and spoon, valued at $10, baked by Mrs. H. N. Rose; second prize, $20 in gold to loaf No. 402, baked by Mrs. A. J. McGurday, and the third prize, $10 in gold to loaf No. 181, baked by Rebecca R. H. H.

The following loaves were decided to have deserved honorable mention: No. 366, baked by Mrs. Ball, No. 89, baked by Mrs. Hannah Maloney, No. 154, baked by Emily Gage, loaf No. 191, baked by Mrs. W. W. Hough, and loaf No. 177, baked by Miss Lucy Daphney.

Nearly 500 loaves were entered in the contest, from the smallest size up to loaf No. 401, which weighed thirty-five pounds. This was baked by the Messrs. Carr & Barney Manufacturing Company.

Miss Johnson acted as referee. The result of the contest was watched with eager interest by the contestants present. The bread entered will be on exhibition Monday, when Miss Johnson will deliver a scientific standpoint the whys and wherefores for selecting the loaves which took the prizes and for rejecting those which did not receive prizes.

The management have decided to distribute the bread to the poor of the city through the newspapers.

In order to give the exhibitors a chance to eat their Thanksgiving dinner, the management announced that the exhibition will be closed on Thanksgiving day until 7:30 p. m. The Government Cavalry Band, just returned from the West, will furnish music for the exposition next week. This band is now stationed at Fort Meyer, and is the only mounted band in the country.

A well-known lawyer was once asked by a lady friend how she kept her husband in such a good humor. She replied: "I feed him well." At the Pure Food Show those housewives who so desire may learn the best to feed their husbands in a scientific manner.

Convention Hall is one of the wonders of the architecture of the whole country and within its brilliantly-lighted precincts the various exhibitors have facilities for displaying their products better than in any other city.

RUINING A REPUTATION.

It is Only a Literary One, However, and Before Judge Hagan yesterday Labor Commissioner Carroll D. Wright made a partial defense against Indian Expert Donaldson, of Philadelphia, who says Wright is ruining his reputation.

Donaldson, as special agent of the Census Bureau, made a report on the five civilized tribes of Indians.

Mr. Wright edited the report much to his detriment, as Mr. Donaldson asserts. Mr. Donaldson, therefore, wanted his name left out of the publication.

Mr. Wright complied with this so far as the title page is concerned, but failed to leave out the name in one of the chapters. Mr. Donaldson therefore asked an injunction against the publication and other relief.

The argument yesterday was upon a demurrer.

Johnson's New Bicycle Record.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 24.—The opening of the new bicycle track at Fountain Ferry Park to-day was an auspicious one. The principal event on the card was race No. 2, two miles, flying start, against time. John S. Johnson was billed to go against his previous record of 4:07 1-2 made by him on the track, and he clipped six and two-fifths seconds off his former record in hollow style, going the two miles in 3:54 4-5. Tyler's time for this distance is 4:04.

EDITOR ROBINSON'S REPLY.

Two Statements in the Strike Commission's Report Make It Worthless.

H. P. Robinson, editor of the Railway Age, was shown yesterday the statement made by Commissioner Carroll D. Wright yesterday, respecting the charges of the Railway Age against the recent report of the strike commission.

"There are two statements in that report," said Mr. Robinson, "which alone make the whole document worthless, for they misrepresent the very essence of our extraordinary commission. We may not be able to get impartiality and a freedom from party bias in our public documents, but we ought to be able to have the facts straight."

"This is ridiculous on the face of it. What was the trouble at the stockyards about? Are dead cattle hauled on Pullman cars? Why was there any freight blockade? What did the President interfere for? To make some railway employees haul Pullman cars? That is nonsense."

"The commission also knows better than the statement which their report makes that until the railroad strike the example a general union of railway employees was never attempted. We may not be able to get impartiality and a freedom from party bias in our public documents, but we ought to be able to have the facts straight."

Did Not Strike a Rock.

New York, Nov. 24.—The court of inquiry which is trying to place the responsibility of the accident to the Cincinnati to-day examined Ensign Wells, who was the officer of the deck at the time of the sinking of the ship. He was sure that the Cincinnati struck some submerged rock, and not a rock or shoal. The court will hold the next session at Washington.

Didn't Want to Strike.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 24.—The garment-makers' Union held a meeting to-night but did nothing in regard to the resolution from the convention held at New York ordering a strike here. The garment workers here have no intention of going on a strike.

No Thanksgiving dinner will be complete without Val Blatz "Wiener" Beer. Order in time and avoid the rush.
